Sextet: Queer Pop-Up Exhibition at The Maddox Building

Sextet: Queer Pop-Up Exhibition features six Portland-based creators, exploring tactility, materiality, and spatial embodiment across mediums such as sculpture, video, textiles, and drawing. This curated selection brings together the works of Daniel Peabody, Michael Espinoza, Molly Alloy, David Eckard, Pepper Pepper, and Andrzej Jank, offering a collaborative dialogue between new works and recent experiences at various out-of-town exhibitions. Presented as 'six queerries,' each of these artists investigate and explore themes of belonging, collaboration, identity, and desire in a rare showcase exclusive to Portland.

The exhibition will be on display from February 23 to March 24, 2024, with openings scheduled for Friday, February 23, and 1st Thursday, March 7, both running from 5:00 pm to 8:00 pm. Regular gallery hours are Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays, from 12:00 pm to 4:00 pm, or viewers may arrange appointments.

Location: The Maddox Building: Entrance on 608 NW 13th St, Portland, OR
